Dr John D'Arcy

Doctor, Presenter

Dr John D'Arcy AM is Australia's original television doctor. His position as the 'most trusted and well-loved oracle of family medicine' on Australian television has been earned over more than 30 years on our screens. John has worked in the field all around the globe. He has a presence throughout many media platforms providing good health awareness and sound public health advice. In 2016, Dr John was included in the Queen's Birthday Honor List for significant service to community health and education through a range of broadcast media roles, and to medicine as a general practitioner. There is no slowing down for this medical media veteran.
