Aimee Stanton

Plumber, DIY specialist, Presenter

With her bubbly energetic personality and laid-back attitude, Aimee Stanton's not your average tradie. Plumber turned DIY specialist & Tiny House Creator, she's well-known for being one of Australia's first Lady Tradie Presenters & a passionate advocate for Women in the Trades.

From building, creating DIY projects, living more sustainably & everything in between – Aimee is a firm believer that anyone can get on the tools & give it a crack. She isn't one to shy away from hard work, in 2017 she Co-founded 'Tiny Stays' with her brother Ben – a company that builds off-grid Tiny Houses' & rents them out as short term accommodation in Victoria.

Her can-do attitude has been a breath of fresh air on our TV screens. Her and her partner Kayne came 2nd on Channel 7's popular renovation show House Rules in 2020. They were fan favourites for their positive vibes, laid back attitude and were the first Tradie Couple in to be on the show.

Aimee works alongside popular lifestyle brands to create DIY content. She's an Ambassador for Bisley Workwear & was involved in their design process for creating the new Women's Workwear range in 2020.
